Preamble:

Indian Tourism industry:

Tourism contributes for 9% of GDP every year and has been instrumental for employment generation which is estimated at 11%. Tourism has potential to offer induced and direct employment opportunities by the year 2022. Increase in tourism demands large number of skilled professionals who are able to support, conduct and manage travel, tours and the other support services. For example medical tourism is a major tourism sector in India and India is expected to be the number 1 for wellness tourism in the next 5 years. With the current challenges City tourism promotion projects and sustainable tourism projects shall gain momentum in domestic tourism activities. Social Media through digitalised platforms has created demand for destinations via travel influencers creating considerable travel demand. There will be a steep rise expected in Virtual tourism. A part of the same is already been started in form of Virtual city tours and Museum tours. The current dynamic situation requires innovative sales and promotion marketing tools to enable effective skilled manpower to adapt to new normal in the working space. It is estimated that there would be a substantial growth in Domestic travel in the next two years. Thanks to the current situation the tourism industry has grown manifold in the virtual space giving rise to new working avenues in terms of job roles and profiles. This indeed will boost the need for new tourism related skills sets creating immediate demand in the market. Domestic tourism in India is expected to pick up later in 2021. Tourism shall gain momentum by 2022 with new concepts and niche markets:- domestic and international, hence skilled workforce will be required with enhanced digital and technological skills. New trends of "Workacation" and "Staycation" are expected to grow in the coming one year resulting in a subsequent demand for skilled employment.

Mission of the Department:-

"The Department of B. Voc Tourism and Travel Management at Ramnarain Ruia Autonomous College aims to create skilled manpower, ensure employability with assured career progression, through dynamic curricula, developing problem solving and life skills, building on knowledge acquisition, critical analysis, interpretation and real - time applicability of theories, concepts, and sensitizing students to adapt to changing skill sets required to work in the global tourism management industry."
