About the speaker: Nithya has a PhD in biological sciences with a specialization in microbiology and also a certification from the globally renowned Board of Editors in the Life Sciences (BELS). She heads the editorial training team and has managed the training programs of over 100 aspiring and professional editors across her 6-year career. She has also curated the content for and conducted courses on academic writing and editing for researchers in India and abroad. Nithya's team is accountable for ensuring that the editors and reviewers at CACTUS have updated skills and knowledge needed to provide editorial support to academic authors intending to publish internationally. Finally, armed with her experience as a researcher and her understanding of the academic publishing industry, Nithya has contributed to the development of new editorial services to meet the evolving publication needs of researchers.
